General Business: Lindsay Black our webmaster, has received notice from the Weebly, the organization that publishes our website, that because we have a custom domain name (dodgeclub nsw) under new arrangements, we now need to pay US$10.00 per month in order to continue publishing on the website. Present members all agreed to accept the cost to continue to be able to publish the website. Lindsay will investigate the matter further.

A Vella has asked about club shirts, we talked it over from what we had made in the past as there were none available at present.

B Galea has proposed that we can reduce our post box costs by sharing with another person, which means having to notify everyone concerned of box # change etc,

Raffle: Not Drawn,
